-Guests from Norwich, Putnam and Other Towns.

Telephone employes from Norwich, New London, Putnam and other towns

New London, Putnam and other towns in this section came here Friday evening to attend the dance given in Phoenix hall under the auspices of the employes in the various departments of the Danielson division.

Special care had been taken in decorating the hall and with the feature electrical effects the interior was made highly attractive. Palms and ferns were banked about the stage and a banner hearing the word Weicome was banner bearing the word Weicome was suspended above. Streamers of bunting shading strings of electric bulbs were festogned from the corners of the halk to the center, where a big bell, symbol of the allied telephone companies, was suspended, with a cluster of electric lights.

The dance programme included a confetti number, moonlight waltzes, flashlight twosteps and a match-up twostep. For the last little blue bells (telephone) were distributed, each bearing a telephone number, and the lady and gentleman holding corre-sponding numbers danced tegether. Music was by the Phoenix orchestra.

Dainty refreshments were served. The dance was in every way a suc

POPULATION BOOSTED. Borough Gets About 100 New Inhabitants All at Once.

The 28 families announced to be coming here from West Warren, Mass., arrived Friday at about 11 o'clock, filling a car on the passenger train due about that hour. There was approximately 100 men, women and children in the party and they gave the borough's population such a boost as it has not had in many a moon.

The newcomers are Polish people and are to work in the mill of the Danielson Cotton company, which when in full operation will be running close to 2,000 looms. They attracted a great deal of attention as they walked from the station to the mill company's village, where they will occupy the tenements that have been wacant for so long.

All of the new people who are go ing to work will probably be in the mill by Monday and the payroll of the plant will immediately take a big jump. The coming of the West Warren people will practically offset the loss in population that Danielson suf-fered when the mill closed down about two years ago, but more operatives are needed to make a full complement of help at the mill.

Installation at Brooklyn Grange.

At Brooklyn grange this week, when the newly elected officers were in-stalled, the hall was beautifully decthe newly elected officers were installed, the hall was beautifully decorated. Over 50 members were present and about 20 visitors in addition. The installation ceremony was conducted by Howard Sykes of Suffield, a general deputy for Connecticut State grange.

The officers installed were: Master, Charles A. Downs; overseer, Arthur Young; lecturer, Mrs. Susie Williams; Young; lecturer, Mrs. Susie Williams; steward, Leslie Havens, by Norton Eastment as proxy; assistant steward, Eenjamin Kinney; changlain, Rev. George F. Genung; secretary, D. M. Havens; treasurer, Joseph Stetson; gajekeeper, Clinton Cleveland; Cered. Helen Witter: Pomona, Delia Mathewson; Flora, Mrs. Flora Gardner; Jady assistant steward, Miss Cora Havens.

The installation ceremony was a fine and instructive proceeding and was carried out smoothly, a vote of thanks being tendered the visitors. Mr. Sykes addressed, the gathering, touching on many things of interest, congratulating the grange on its fine showing.

As a prominent granger puts it, Brooklyn grange has the ability to do things, always has had and always will have. It is remarkable that this grange has ten past masters, all living and several of them members, each taking an active part and interest in all its work, and with the force of younger members and all others and the fine spirit always manifest, there can be no question about the perpetuation of this grange.

A feature of the installation night meeting was the bountful spread.
